

Huobi x Consentium Presents JAB Fest!

After all the various events and milestones that our team at Consentium has achieved this year, we couldn't let the year pass by without trying one more new thing! We collaborated with Huobi to host a first ever art and blockchain event at their new office space in Asia Square Tower. Huobi is the 4th largest cryptocurrency exchange founded in China with offices in Singapore, Hong Kong, Korea and the US.

The last evening of the year was spent surrounded by jazz music and an artisanal market within the space of a company that is making waves in the blockchain industry. We had a total of 19 vendors that participated, all of whom were accepting Consentium as a mode of payment.

(Customer making payment using the Consentium app)

All a customer had to do was scan a QR code generated by the vendor's Consentium app in their wallet, key in the amount that had to be paid and the amount was transferred immediately. It is as easy as Apple or Samsung pay but instead of fiat currencies, it is with cryptocurrency stored in your Consentium wallet. Everything is pegged to the blockchain and the value of the coin is generated by the latest exchange rate. Another step towards mass adoption of cryptocurrencies!

(L: Consentium representative, Jeremy Khoo ; R: Consentium and Huobi's representative Veta with our investors)

